Babson Champions Small Stock Holder

(Exclusive NEWS Feature)

VARIOUS organizations have been formed to protect the small stockholders. The two most active are the B. C. Forbes Group and Independent Investors, Inc., of New York City. The basic difficulty with them all is that the members are so widely scattered geographically that it is very difficult to get them together for action.

Your best help should come from your local bank. It has your money and exists upon the deposits of local merchants, nearby farmers and small stockholders. Most banks will do what they can for you and make no charge. Naturally, you don't dare go to a lawyer for fear he will charge for saying, "Howdy"; while your poor minister never saw a stock or bond. As a result of this condition, there are many companies, whose stock was bought by readers like you, which have gone completely bust.

You can cuss Franklin Roosevelt for many things, but he certainly tried to protect small stockholders. His difficulty was that he left the solution to theoretical bureaucrats who made the "Prospective" so long and complicated that very few investors can make "head or tail" out of them. Yet, if you have been "stuck" by a stock salesman, you should write the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D. C. It will cost you nothing; you will get a reply; and they may help you get your money back.

Importance of Records

Another suggestion is that you write the New York Stock Exchange, Broad Street, New York City. This is an honest organization which is now very anxious to have friends. If you can prove that one of its member firms or any employee thereof has definitely wronged you, a committee of the Exchange will call the member firm before it and force the firm to make up your loss. You will not need to employ any lawyer or go to New York if you have followed these three rules:

- (1) Insist that all your dealings in stocks be in writing. Before giving a salesman an order, make him write you all he has said. Never listen to a stock salesman on the telephone.
- (2) When buying any stock, have the salesman give you a receipt stating of whom he bought the stock, and what he paid for it, and what his commission is for making the sale.
- (3) Save all these papers and put them in the envelope with the stock certificate, which envelopes you—of course—will keep in your safe deposit box. The very fact that you take such precautions, after telling the salesman that you are to do so, will surely cause him to be honest with you and perhaps withdraw the offering.

The above is not criticism of stock salesman as a class. Most of them represent good firms and are honest. But with your small funds you cannot afford to lose anything.

SEVERAL CANDIDATES FOR TOWN OFFICE

With the holidays now over, the political pot started to boil this week when several new candidates took out nomination papers for the annual town election scheduled March 5.

Latest to announce his candidacy is Edward W. Higgins of 78-Scituate st., a former member of the Town Finance Committee and town meeting member. Mr. Higgins will seek election to the three-year term on the Board of Public Works.

He is president of the Frost and Higgins Company and of the Mill Street Associates. He is a member of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce and several other Arlington organizations in which he has held office. He is currently president of the National Shade Tree Conference and is past president of the National Arborists Association and the Massachusetts Arborists Association.

Many Seek Re-election

Other candidates who had taken out nomination papers at the office of Town Clerk James J. Golden, up to yesterday, include:

Town Clerk Golden, candidate for re-election.

Robert L. Mahoney of 260 Broadway, who announced his candidacy for the Board of Selectmen last week.

Frank J. Hughes of 106 Franklin st., candidate for the Board of Public Works.

Arthur W. Sampson, candidate for re-election to the Board of Assessors, and J. Albert Han-

Prayers For Peace to Mark Universal Week of Prayer

Purcell, Murphy Not Candidates

Atty. Joseph A. Purcell, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, and Atty. John L. Murphy, chairman of the Board of Public Works, will not seek re-election in the March election, it was learned officially yesterday.

Mr. Purcell issued the following statement:

"I wish to announce that I am not a candidate for re-election to the Board of Selectmen at the forthcoming annual election in March. The increased demands upon my time from my law practice make it impossible for me to be a candidate for public office at the present time.

"I would like to thank the citizens of Arlington for the kind and generous confidence they have always accorded me whenever I have aspired to public office and have always tried to the best of my ability to justify the trust they reposed in me."

The NEWS approached Atty. Murphy and learned from him that he too had definitely decided not to seek another term.

It has been rumored for several weeks that the two officials, both very well-known and highly regarded, would not be candidates this year.

True Listing Starts
The listing of all Arlington residents 20 years or over, as required by law, got under way Tuesday under the direction of the Registrars of Voters. The cooperation of all citizens is urged so that the work can be expedited.

HOSPITAL DRIVE
The final meeting of precinct coordinators for the Symmes Hospital building fund drive will be held at the drive headquarters, 452 Massachusetts ave., Arlington Center, this evening. James J. Golden will preside. Plans will be completed for precinct meetings to orient fund solicitors preparatory to the opening of the drive on Jan. 15.

Selectmen Open Town Warrant

The Board of Selectmen at a meeting Saturday opened the warrant as of Jan. 2, calling the annual town election on March 5 and the town meeting on March 19.

The warrant will remain open to receive additional articles up to Jan. 22, when it will be closed.

The report of the building inspector, showing that permits amounting to $205,885 were issued in December, was received.

A license was granted to the Partridge Food Shop which will do business at 1040 Massachusetts ave.

The contract, awarded to the Arlington Hardware Company, Inc., for electric light bulbs and fluorescent lights for the year 1951 was signed Saturday.

The State auditors' report of the audit of town books, which was conducted last year and which shows the books to be in good condition, was received.

The board voted to meet next Monday with the Sinking Fund Commissioners to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Harrie H. Dabun and with the trustees of the Thompson Scholarship Fund to choose a successor to the late Edward C. Hildreth.

To Outline Plans This Evening for March of Dimes

The Arlington plans for the 1951 March of Dimes campaign will be unfolded at a committee meeting in the Arlington Police Station tonight at 7:30.

William J. Sinclair, president of the Arlington Auxiliary Police Association, will outline to committee chairmen the details of the drive which will run from Jan. 15 to Jan. 30.

Representatives of the Arlington Fire, Police and School Departments as well as the P.T.A., Auxiliary Police and other civic organizations will be present to unite in the annual fight against the great cripper—polio.

The near-record infantile toll of last year has brought to Middlesex County a deficit that can only be met through strong community-wide support in Arlington and other towns.

The pre-organization response seems to indicate that Arlington will put on as intensive a drive as last year's $8,700 fund collection.

FOUR FELLE BY GAS FUMES

Overcome by gas fumes seeping through the house, as a result of a break in an underground main, four members of the Colucci family at 102 Alpine st., were given first-aid by Arlington firemen late Friday night.

Angelo A. Colucci, 47, reported to the police about 10 p.m. that gas fumes were seeping through the house. Patrolmen O'Leary and Duggan went to the scene to investigate and the fire department's special service truck was sent to the Alpine st. residence. Dr. Allen J. McCarthy, who happened to be at police headquarters at the time, also went to the Colucci home.

They found Mrs. Anna Colucci, 42, and Patricia A. Colucci, 19, overcome by the fumes. Both were resuscitated by firemen. Suffering less seriously from the fumes, Mr. Colucci and Nancy M. Colucci, 17, were given oxygen by firemen.

The gas company was notified and an emergency crew went to the scene to make necessary repairs.

11,000 Families to Receive Civil Defense Letter, Booklet

Eleven thousand envelopes containing important reading matter from the Arlington office of Civil Defense will be mailed to Arlington families tomorrow. It was announced this week by Daniel J. McFadden, director of Civil Defense.

Each family will receive a letter from the Board of Selectmen asking its cooperation in setting up a strong Civil Defense program; a pamphlet, "Protection From the Atomic Bomb," which was described briefly in the NEWS several weeks ago; and a return postal card to be filled out and returned by those wishing to serve as volunteers in the Civil Defense program.

The Arlington Gas Light Company addressed the 11,000 envelopes while Arlington Boy Scouts, under the direction of Horace Homer, district commissioner, stuffed and sealed the envelopes Saturday morning at the Robbins Town Hall. The Civil Defense director hopes to actually form volunteer groups in each phase of the Civil Defense effort in about a month, depending on the response of volunteers.

The Selectmen's letter, signed by Joseph A. Purcell, chairman, sent to Arlington citizens this week, follows:

"To the Residents of Arlington: The enclosed pamphlet, 'Protection from the Atomic Bomb,' was prepared by the Civil Defense Agency, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and is being forwarded to every home in our community for your information by your department of Civil Defense. The pamphlet briefly and very clearly describes exactly what you must do to protect yourself in the event of an atomic explosion. Study this booklet NOW and SAVE it for future reference. We feel certain that the importance of such study is obvious and, by knowing these procedures, you will be able to better protect yourself and your family in such an emergency.

"The need for civilian defense preparedness in view of present international complications is apparent. We have already made plans for the protection of the residents of Arlington, with all municipal departments and employees forming the nucleus of our defense organization.

"The success of this plan, however, depends not only on the complete support and co-operation of all our townspeople, but very vitally upon the individual efforts of men and women without whose services our plan cannot become operative.

"We, therefore, most earnestly solicit your active participation in Civil Defense by completing and mailing the enclosed postal card. We can utilize the services of all volunteers regardless of age, sex or occupation and feel certain that in view of the present crisis in world affairs you will not hesitate to volunteer NOW."

—Rev. John Nicol Mark addressed the Old Powderhouse Woman's Club of West Somerville on Tuesday evening.

Budgets Before Finance Board

With close to 50 separate budgets to be considered, the Town Finance Committee, beginning tonight, will meet every Thursday and Monday evenings from now until the annual town meeting in March.

The committee is composed of a representative from each of the town's 14 precincts, one member at large and an executive secretary. The latter is T. Gordon Smith of 18 Cliff st., who was appointed a member of the committee in 1931 and served until 1939 when he was appointed executive secretary.

Chairman of the all-important committee is J. Howard Hayes who has been a member since 1940. Charles A. Armitage is vice-chairman and William R. Bennett is secretary. Atty. John J. Driscoll of 103 Oakland ave., is member at large. He was appointed last year.

The other members of the committee and the precinct they represent are:

Precinct 1, Edwin A. Barnard, 61 Cleveland st.; 2, Milton H. Bretscher, 48 Melrose st.; 3, Martin F. Roach, 72 Grafton st.; 4, James E. Potts, 4 Cabot road; 5, Warren H. Daniels, 179 Palmer st.; 6, Howard R. Ensor, 20 Monadnock road; 7, Henry E. Halpin, 141 Franklin st.; 8, William H. Farrow, 198 Highland ave.; 9, Charles A. Armitage, 16 Frost st.; 10, James R. Robson, 103 Glenburn road; 11, William R. Bennett, 205 Washington st.; 12, Clifton N. Fogg, 44 Kenilworth road; 13, Percival E. Richardson, 137 Newland road; 14, J. Howard Hayes, 115 Claremont ave.

Construction of Three More Streets Approved

Following hearings Tuesday evening, the joint board of Selectmen and Public Works recommended the acceptance and construction this year, of Oakhill drive, from Summer to Ridge sts.; Rhinecliff st., from Appleton st. to Florence ave.; and Blossom st., from Bow st., to Lennon road.

The board also recommended that hearings be held regarding the acceptance of Edmund road, from the end of its accepted portion to Carl road; and Waverly st., from Hillside ave. to Cedar ave. These will be the last street hearings for 1951.

Many Enjoy New Year's Day Tea at Jason Russell House

By ALICE CHESLEY

The Arlington Historical Society welcomed visitors on New Year's Day to the old Jason Russell House which, through the stress and strain of the passing years, has stood a stolid reminder of the early settlers who lived and hoped with a strong faith in their community and country.

The tea marked a renewal of an annual custom which had been abandoned in recent years and the enjoyable occasion drew many Arlington people and out-of-town guests to this historic spot where history was made on April 18 and 19, 1775.

Guests were received by the president of the Historical Society, Rev. Laurence L. Barber, and other officers, and by members of the house committee of which Wathen B. Henderson is chairman. All were soon made to feel at home as attendants were on hand to point out the interesting features of the colonial home and its many exhibits.

There are evidences of the bitter Revolutionary struggle that took place here in bullet holes which pierced the woodwork of the staunch old house's frame but which never stemmed the tide of free men's spirits and courage. It is said that the floor ran ankle high with blood as eleven men of Menotomy were shot down by the Redcoats on that fateful occasion in '75.

Old muskets, powder horns, bayonets, fire buckets and a large assortment of household utensils in use during the Revolutionary period are on exhibition. An old high-wheel bicycle, in excellent condition, is among the attractions. Paintings and photographs bring to mind vividly the scenes of long ago.

Visitors found the living room, where tea was served, newly papered and painted in keeping with colonial times.

Tea, sandwiches and cookies were served by Miss Edith Robinson and Miss Harriet Holt. Pourers at the tea table were Miss Marion Shirley, Mrs. Charles A.

with a high mass of requiem at St. Agnes' Church.

Mrs. Hendrick died last Thursday. She was the widow of Atty. Philip A. Hendrick, former Arlington selectman, who died during the past year.

She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Miriam A. Cahalin of Arlington, Mrs. Ruth Akin of Wakefield, and Mrs. Elizabeth Nelson of Lynn; eight grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Catherine Kelley of Arlington.

MRS. CLARA H. LAYCOCK
Funeral services for Mrs. Clara H. Laycock, 64, of 921 Massachusetts ave., were held Tuesday afternoon at the Fowler Funeral Home, Maynard.

Mrs. Laycock was the widow of Harry Laycock. She died Saturday night in Maynard. Born in England, she had lived in Arlington nearly 25 years. She leaves a brother and two sisters in England.

MRS. JOHN HARRINGTON
The funeral of Mrs. Catherine F. Harrington, 85, widow of John W. Harrington, was held yesterday with a high mass of requiem at St. James' Church.

Mrs. Harrington died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank E. Kenney of 85 Forest st., with whom she lived.

A native of Lowell, she had been a resident of Arlington 50 years. She was a member of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Ancient Order of Hibernians, Maynard, and St. James' Sodality, Arlington Heights.

Besides her daughter, she leaves a son, John W. Harrington, Jr., of Tacoma, Wash.; 13 grandchildren, six great-grandchildren; a brother, Albert Carney of Franklin, and a sister, Mrs. George P. Haggerty of Concord.

Hardy and Mrs. Laurence L. Barber.

One of the best examples of old stencilled ceiling designs is well preserved and visible in the kitchen room where remarkable old wood paneled walls lend their mellow warmth to the quaint interior. Fascinating iron utensils line the hearth and old pewter pieces are tucked in the fireplace niche.

Upstairs can be seen various types of interesting early Americana. A fine old pineapple carved bedstead graces a bedroom that has been newly papered in authentic colonial wallpaper. Here also are to be found delightful costumes of the Revolutionary period, hanging in the closet.

For lovers of early American lore and for students of our proud historic background a visit to the Jason Russell House was a charming and nostalgic way to start the eventful New Year.

Among the many interesting exhibits was a fine display of old china, trunks, tables, stools and other house furnishings, all of which add to the value of a visit to the Russell House. Also, there was an unusual group of old napkin rings shown by Mrs. Earl W. Smith of Jason st. It included rings made of wood, leather, silver, shells and other materials.

This delightful afternoon was arranged by the program committee, Miss Edith N. Winn, Miss Edith Ervin and Robert F. Needham.

Philharmonic to Give Scholarship Concert

The Arlington Philharmonic Society will present Arlington's own Leo Litwin, nationally known concert pianist, and a group of distinguished soloists in a concert on be half of the scholarship fund, at Junior High East on Jan. 21.

Mr. Litwin is donating his services for this cause. Tea will be served. Mrs. Phyllis E. Spence is chairman of the scholarship committee.

Sunday afternoon radio station WTAO of Cambridge rebroadcast the second half of the recent Arlington Philharmonic production of Handel's Messiah. "Particularly good were the arias 'He trusted in God' and 'Lift up your heads, O ye gates,' and the Hallelujah Chorus. Records of the entire production will be available shortly.

Rehearsals for the Spring concert will begin next Monday for the chorus and Tuesday for the orchestra. The Philharmonic welcomes newcomers to both.

Of particular interest will be the modern cantata Bailed for Americans by John LaTouche and Earl Robinson. Miss Gratia Eagleson of 18 Maple st., is chairman of the music committee, and Mrs. Mortimer A. French, 26 Mayflower road, chairman of the ticket committee. The concert will be held March 23.

HELPING OTHERS — AND YOURSELF

Turn necessity into gain for yourself, the American Red Cross advised this week in calling for blood donations, volunteer aides and others to learn first aid and home nursing. In these critical times, here is a sound bit of New Year advice, indeed.

Deeming it a demand of the times to make blood donations for the wounded in Korea, for thousands injured in accidents and others who are ill, the Red Cross points out that we will be helping our own flesh and blood by being generous as donors. For Arlingtonians, the opportunity is at hand to give blood since the Red Cross bloodmobile will be at St. John's Episcopal Church next Monday to receive donations. The goal is 150 pints, but indications are that it will not be reached unless many more volunteer between now and next Monday.

Who can say we do not know anyone who will need blood today, tomorrow or next week?

Casualty lists number youths from our own neighborhood. Blood donations have helped them.

Accidents occur daily. Blood supplies must be available for victims. Sicknesses strike everywhere. For them your blood is needed.

You can make necessary work for you today, by being volunteers in the many Red Cross activities where you will find a depth of satisfaction in knowing that you are helping others. Helping in hospitals and blood centers is blessedness of high degree. It is being a friend to those who need friends.

First Aid and Home Nursing skills learned in free Red Cross classes are insurance against the day when you might have to fend for yourself when an accident happens or when there are sick at home.

By learning these skills now, you will be prepared to cope with ills in the future.

All three activities—making blood donations, serving as volunteers and learning safety and health skills—are closely woven into Civil Defense preparedness as well as for the current, everyday requirements for the battlefield, the local hospital, or for the accident or illness in your own home.

If you can give a pint of blood, won't you call AR 5-8675 today.

TIME TO RETRENCH?

As we enter upon a new year, everyone concerned with the drawing up and final approval of the budgets for various town departments faces a very grave responsibility.

This includes our town officials and department heads, the Finance Committee and those who seek election in March, as well as our town meeting members.

The need for strict economy should be obvious to all. It is rumored that Arlington's tax rate of more than fifty dollars is due to be increased again this year. We are embarking upon a Civil Defense program, the eventual cost of which is unknown. Finally, the national defense program and the anticipated State expenditures this year will unquestionably mean higher taxes on both the federal and state level.

It would appear, then, that this is no time to expand town services. It calls, rather, for elimination of frills and a closer scrutiny of every town expenditure, in all departments, including that of public welfare. No deserving person should be deprived of aid from public funds, but chiselers should be weeded out. The break-down of the tax rate, which we published last week should open our eyes.

If large expenditures must be made for the war effort, we must be ready and eager to sacrifice some of the services that we expect from the Town in normal times.

CALL TO PRAYER

Bishop Sherrill, President of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States in issuing the call to Prayer said in part:

"Once again we hear the angelic chorus, now in a time of war and rumors of war, as the crisis of our generation lengthens and deepens. The supreme lesson of our day is our need of God. His wisdom, His mercy, and His guidance of men and of nations. Events call for deep searching of hearts, for clarifying of purpose, for humility, yet also for determined action. Within ourselves alone we cannot find the resources to meet the necessities of this hour.

"Our strength comes from God, Who sent His Son that the world through Him might be saved. As never before we should pray daily to God for all mankind, for those who have at home and abroad the responsibility of governmental decisions, for the United Nations, for the establishment of a peace of justice, and purged of self-righteousness and worldly fear and anxieties, the rededication of ourselves and of our nation to the Will of God."

From January 8 to 14 the Protestant churches of Arlington will observe a universal week of prayer. St. John's Episcopal, Trinity Baptist and Park Avenue Congregational Churches will be open daily from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. for prayer and meditation. I strongly urge the people of this community to avail themselves of this opportunity to make their prayers for peace a corporate act.

REV. H. I. ANDREWS,
President, Arlington Ministers' Association.

Roger Babson's Column

Everyone Should Be A Stockholder

The fact that I urge the above three rules, should not keep you from buying stocks. Your bank checking accounts now pay no interest; while savings accounts pay very little. Yet, you can buy safe stocks paying over 6%. Your local banker should be able to supply you a list of stocks which have paid some dividend for over 50 years. Rich people buy such stocks; they don't leave money in savings banks. Yet, the small investor needs 6% much more than do rich people. Diversify very widely by distributing your money over a very large number of stocks—or else employ honest and long-established Investment Advisors.

Another thing, all investors—large and small—should sit down tonight and write their Congressman how excessive corporate taxes are hurting everybody. Certainly, the present double taxation on dividends is absolutely unfair. The idea of "paying as we go" for war does not seem logical, because if World War III comes it will be fought for our grandchildren and their children, as well as for us. As for inflation, we, of course, should avoid it in times of peace; but the nation has always had it as the result of war and we still survive. A great need of the U. S. today is the encouragement of thrift and small investors.

The NEWS OBSERVES

Undoubtedly, you have had a lot of pleasure from the many greeting cards received during the Christmas season. You can spread still more cheer with these cards if you will leave them at the Children's Fashion Shop, 305 Broadway, whose personnel has agreed to make up the cards in booklet form and turn them over to hospitals for distribution in children's wards.

The NEWS acknowledges receipt of several fine calendars, including those of the Arlington Cooperative Bank, and the J. C. Rush Insurance office. Among the unusual novelties is an attractive desk calendar received from one of our advertisers, Arthur W. Nile, lawn, window and oil service firm. Many thanks!

It's difficult to believe that such things could happen but some puppies that were presented to youngsters for Christmas are being let out of the house to shift for themselves. Sam Femia, Arlington dog officer, reports that he has picked up no less than 14 stray puppies since Dec. 27. If the owners are unknown, the dogs must be sent to the Animal Rescue League. Mr. Femia asks that anyone who has a puppy he no longer cares to keep to notify him. The dog will be picked up and placed with a family that is willing to provide a good home for the pet. There's a waiting list.

"The killing of thousands of our soldiers in Korea is a well-known and continuing tragedy, but few people realize that an even more appalling total of killings has occurred in traffic accidents last year," reported Robert S. Kretschmar, secretary of the Massachusetts Division of the American Automobile Association, in a review of the year 1950.

Through Dec. 22, 1950, the War Department reported the deaths of 6,432 soldiers in Korea. When Father Time closed the book on the 12 months of 1950, he had listed more than 34,000 traffic deaths on our highways.

More and improved winter sports areas in Massachusetts have the welcome sign hanging out for the throngs of enthusiasts scheduled to trek to the Bay State this winter with the advent of skiing snow. Seventy-four facilities are listed in the new Massachusetts Ski Guide distributed by the Massachusetts Development and Industrial Commission. More than half, and all the major areas, are located in the Berkshire Hills and adjacent Pioneer Valley.

Free copies of the Massachusetts Ski Guide may be obtained by writing the Massachusetts Development and Industrial Commission, 20 Somerset St., Boston.

Small retail business men, including professional men such as doctors, dentists, lawyers and service trades men who have one or more regular employees will be hardest hit by the increase in unemployment compensation tax on payrolls which became effective Monday. It was pointed out today by Clifford I. Fahlsstrom, Worcester, executive director of the Massachusetts Council on Employment Security.

The change will mean, Fahlsstrom said, a 440% increase in this tax since December of 1949 for thousands of employers, large and small, throughout the state and a 170% increase above their 1950 rates.

"For instance," said Fahlsstrom, "it will almost triple the tax of many retailers and professional men with one or more employees. A small employer with one employee whom he pays $40 a week will find his tax, commencing Jan. 1, increased from $10.40 in 1949 to $56.16 in 1951.

"This means that he will be paying an increase in this tax of $45.76 per employee over what he paid in 1949—figuring the salary of the employee as $40 per week, and provided, of course, the employer through his steady employment record was paying a rate of one half of 1% in 1949. For each employee paid a higher salary the tax increase will be proportionately higher."

Here's the answer. We must make changes affecting both employers and employees which will put the law on a sound basis which will be fair to all and will stop the constant chiseling away of the funds by a small minority who do not want to work regularly."

To Exhibit Paintings

Mrs. Frances S. Butler of the Arlington Woman's Club will exhibit a painting, "Dock Square," at the Museum of Fine Arts, open to the public beginning Monday, Jan. 8. She will also exhibit a painting, "The Big Tree," at the Copley Society for Artists on Boylston St., Boston, on Monday, Jan. 15.

Driverless Truck Misses 3 Autos, Crashes Tree

Skidding down snow and ice-covered Grandview road, a heavy oil truck came to a stop when it crashed against a tree in front of the house at 289 Gray st., last Thursday afternoon.
George Milton, 20 Second st., Newbury, driver of the six-wheeled truck, was standing near the vehicle while making an oil delivery at a house at the top of Grandview road. Without warning, the truck started to slide downhill, taking with it the wooden blocks that had been placed under the wheels to prevent it from skidding.
The truck missed two cars parked on Grandview road and continued downhill in a straight line with no one at the wheel. It crossed Gray st., just as a Public Works Department snowplow passed by. The oil truck's spire finally came to an end when it crashed against the tree. The front end of the truck was wrecked by the impact. Police went to the scene and the police ambulance was also sent, but it was not needed since, miraculously, no one was injured. The tree prevented the truck from plowing into the front of the George S. Donahue home which was directly in its path.

Dodge will introduce its model cars to the public on Jan. 20, it was announced this week by Reed Motor Co., Inc. of Arlington.

Ken Reed has just returned from a dealer preview of the new cars in Boston. He described them "really outstanding in appearance, riding comfort and roadability."

"I am excited about the looks of the 1951 Dodge cars," Reed said. "They are beautiful automobiles, both inside and out. As for mechanical improvements, Dodge engineers have developed something new in the way of ride control. I think it is one of the best advancements in chassis engineering we have seen in a long time and I am looking forward to giving road demonstrations beginning Jan. 20."

Mr. Reed said Dodge 1950 retail sales nationally were the greatest in Dodge history despite the fact that the factory was out of production for three months last spring.

Arlington Skaters Belt Newton, 4-2

By JIM DOHERTY

The role of favorite, for the first time this season, had no ill-effect on the Arlington High ice men at the Arena Saturday as they made it two straight by downing Newton, 4-2, before the largest gathering of the season, almost 3000.

The victory put the Red and Gray into a triple tie for third place with Belmont and Rindge in the G.B.I. standings. Rindge, leading the league before Saturday, was knocked off by Melrose 4-1, thereby leaving the title race a toss-up among Cambridge Latin and Melrose who are tied for first place with five points. Arlington, Rindge and Belmont who are close behind with four points each.

Nobart Timmons, who scored the first goal of the season in the opener, started things rolling for the locals again Saturday. While Arlington was short-handed in the first period, Timmons picked up the rubber near center ice, skated up the middle in Eddie Shore fashion and rifled a 30-footer past goalie Dan Coffey at 4:51 for the only score of the first period.

Goalie Checks Locals
Despite the fact that the Spy Ponders couldn't score again in the initial stanza they dominated the play and only some fine goal-tending on the part of Dan Coffey, who was playing that position for the first time, prevented Arlington from scoring more often.

At 5:39 of the second period Newton's Joe Cavallo managed to get a screen shot by goalie Law Morgan but it took Capt. Don O'Brien only 20 seconds to put Arlington ahead again. "OB" took a pass from Timmons near the enemy blue line, skated up the left side, cut in and slid the puck between Coffey's skates. Both teams were short-handed during this scoring spree as they were quite often during the afternoon. Referee Bill Cleary handed out 10 penalties some of which seemed unnecessary.

Scott Coolidge added another goal to the Arlington cause when he slapped in O'Brien's rebound after Don had crashed through the Newton defense and fired a shot while on his knees to increase Arlington's lead to 3-1 at 1:30 of the third frame.

"Gift" For Good Measure
Arlington's fourth goal was a "gift" to Don Cronin from a Newton player. Cronin carried in close, bringing the Newton defenseman in with him as he shot Coffey saved but a Newton defenseman accidentally kicked the puck into the cage to make it 4-1 at 4:45.

Doug Manchester, who was the outstanding player of the afternoon for Newton, put a pretty backhand shot by Jim Reynolds at 8:54 to make the final score 4-2.

The way Timmons is shaping up he should make the "All" team with little trouble.

O'Brien played defense for a few minutes near the end of the game. Could be that he might be paired up with Timmons on the points before long.

Arlington tackles Rindge at the Arena Saturday at 1 p.m. in what should be the most interesting game to date.

Fire

The fire, of undetermined origin, started near the rear door of Gregory's Dry Goods store and tailor shop at 182 Massachusetts ave., according to Chief Richard J. Tierney. The store is owned by Kachadone Majarian, of 31 Amsden st. Arlington firemen, on arriving at the scene, found the back of the shop ablaze.

The flames mushroomed up the walls and spread to adjacent stores and shops, an ornamental metal ceiling, about a foot and a half below the roof line creating a draft for the fire.

Several hundred spectators were drawn to the scene. MTA streetcars were held up because of hose lines laid across Massachusetts ave. Shuttle bus service was provided. Police under the direction of Sgt. George Fitzgibbons diverted traffic from the scene of the blaze. The police ambulance was sent to the fire but was not needed.

At the height of the fire, a kitten was discovered in one of the stores and cheers went up when firemen broke into the shop and rescued the pet. Power fans were put into use to extract the suffocating smoke from the building so that firemen could get at the blaze. Early arrivals at the scene were former Selectman Ernest W. Davis and Dr. Winslow Kingman, who helped firemen lay hose lines. Among the spectators also were Selectman Marcus Sorensen and the owners of the building.

Other stores, besides Gregory's, suffering either fire, smoke or water damage, were the East Arlington Fish Market, Owen W. Semple's plumbing and heating shop, the Arlington Curtain Laundry, the East Arlington Lunch, John's Barber Shop and Teddy's Shoe Shop.

Chief Tierney, who directed the work of the firemen in the latest of a series of two-alarm fires in Arlington, said he would request the aid of the State Fire Marshal's office to determine the cause of the blaze.
